

Respected Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the position for Sr. Frontend role at Productsup.

A little About Me

I spent more than 7+ years developing my skills as a front-end developer mostly at a startup carrying out various frontend activities. I love managing and taking up the issues and working along with the peers to solve complicated issues.

My Vision

My vision for the next 4-6 is to train myself both in managerial skills and become a UI principle architecture and get global exposure.

Why Productsup

After having research, Productsup being an intuitive SaaS for product content integration, optimization, and distribution which is being trusted by multiple companies such as Ikea, HP, etc is more UI-centric where UI/UX plays a vital role in driving the user experience and I strongly believe that contributing my experience in building such platforms can take the product to the next level.

And this is where Productsup gets aligned with my career.

What did I find in Productsup and how can it aligns with my career.

- I like what the product is trying to solve with features such as Feed management, Marketplace integration, Seller, and vendor onboarding.
- Product is rich in data and features there for a lot of tech challenges, such as how to segregate the data for more usability, manage your users effectively, improve the performance of the application etc
- The entire application is dependent on the data set where the app is driven by a heavy UI.
- Great impression over the team and the work-culture

So if you find my profile seems to be interesting let's connect and get to know what we could contribute together, So let us get connected :)
